Produced with Green Energy

Sustainability matters. That's why F2D invests in a fully eco-friendly production process. EcoMade answers the growing demand for environmentally responsible tableware, combining style, quality, and no carbon emission during firing.

Natural Porcelain built to last

Our Ecomade collections are made of Natural Porcelain a high-performance ceramic clay with natural iron oxide, giving it a distinctive raw beige tone. With over 20% alumina, it is fired at 1260°C, making it fully vitrified (0% water absorption) and extremely durable. Ideal for demanding environments, it offers lasting strength and refined aesthetics. Fired in solar-powered electric kilns, Natural Porcelain embodies sustainability, durability, and timeless design.
